5 Common First-Time Home Buyer Mistakes

1. Not asking their lender enough questions to ensure that they are getting the best deal.
2. Not acting quickly enough to make a purchase decision resulting in losing the house to another buyer.
3. Not finding the right real estate agent who is willing to help them throughout the entire process of buying a home.
4. Not having the negotiation knowledge or guidance to make their offer look good to a seller.
5. First-time home buyers seldom think about re-sale before they make a purchase. The average first-time home buyer stays in a home for less than four years.
